

Lorelei A. Craig

Associate | Eugene Office

Lorelei Craig is an associate with the firm's health care and litigation practice groups. Her health care practice includes employment, business, and regulatory advice and litigation for health care entities, providers and insurers. Her practice regularly involves advising clients on federal and state health care and insurance related laws, including HIPAA, ERISA, and the Affordable Care Act.

Lorelei's litigation practice emphasizes defense of entities and individuals at the federal and state trial court level in the areas of employment claims, commercial transactions, and intellectual property.

Prior to joining HLGR, Lorelei was a senior litigation associate at the San Francisco location of Morgan Lewis & Bockius LLP. There, she served clients in business disputes, complex litigation and class actions with an emphasis on health care, financial services and technology litigation. Previously, she was with Dewey & LeBoeuf LLP, in San Francisco and New York City, where she worked with their litigation and insurance teams as an associate attorney.

Education ▾

Lorelei graduated from Georgetown University Law Center where she served as a research assistant and senior editor for The Georgetown International Environmental Law Review. She was also a member of the International Law Society and Environmental Law Society. Prior to law school, Lorelei obtained her B.A. in Rhetoric from the University of California at Berkeley in 2004.

Admissions & Memberships ▾

Lorelei is a member of the Oregon, California and New York State Bars and is admitted to practice in the U.S. District Court for the District of Oregon, the Northern District of California, the Central District of California and the Second Circuit Court of Appeals.
