

Our Regulated Professions Practice

Today, professional services intersect with a regulatory structure enforcing compliance with a broad range of ethical and other practice standards. Additionally, professionals face an increasingly hostile litigation environment. With decades of experience, we have the tenacity required to represent professionals in matters ranging from initial licensure to ethics and disciplinary hearings.

We know what is at stake.

As lawyers ourselves, we understand the professional, reputational, and financial impacts that may be associated with a board disciplinary matter or a malpractice claim. In these critical moments, we work with clients to develop a comprehensive strategy to address the issues raised. Our goal for clients is to implement a strategy of representing their interests immediately and persistently, to assure them that everything possible is being done so that they can continue their practice. We also can draw on our insurance law experience with professional liability matters when appropriate.

Healthcare Professionals

A healthcare professional's livelihood depends on holding a license. We work with professionals to secure licenses when issues are raised during the application process, and we defend licensees facing disciplinary action by their governing boards that threaten their reputations and their careers. In either situation, we develop a strategy aimed at protecting the client's right to practice, avoiding or minimizing financial penalties, and defending the client's hard-earned reputation.

Attorneys and Judges - Legal Ethics

We have been helping clients address liability and ethics issues for more than two decades. We are members of the Association of Professional Responsibility Lawyers, and our firm includes attorneys who serve or have served on the American Bar Association's Standing Committee on Ethics and Professional Responsibility. Our attorneys have also taught, written, and lectured extensively on professional conduct and ethics matters.

If you are facing disciplinary action by the Oregon State Bar or the Judicial Fitness Commission, you will want to rely on more than just your own legal expertise. With decades of experience in ethics-related matters, including roles in private practice, in government practice, and on the bench, we can work with you to establish a solid defense to the matters that you may be facing based upon the facts and circumstances of your situation.

Other Licensed Professionals

We assist other licensed professionals who may be involved in board hearings, disciplinary or other professional matters, including:

- CPAs
- Engineers
- Architects
- Real Estate Agents
- Geologists
